As a night watchman in a place where the oldest things of man are present, you will see yourself in the oldest and weirdest situations. You will solve many puzzles and find the reason for the chaos that you look upon. You will witness the rise and fall of the gym and its people. You will see them fighting for a place in the spotlight. You will see all the troubles of the place. But you will also find things that perhaps you do not even wish to see. GAME MESSAGE: Watchman is a place for people who live in the darkness of their own soul. A place for people who do not trust other people. A place for people who are less interested in others and themselves. A place for people who are afraid to go further and to overcome themselves. GAME SPOILERS: A maze of passageways... dangerous traps... MY FEEDBACK: I really like game Watchman. It's not so complicated as you can expect from similar games. You will not be overwhelmed by things that you can not interact with and you will not experience tedious dialogues. Everything that happens around you is extremely interesting to observe and it's really great to look at it for a long time. I was curious to see what sort of traps they can build and I like how they gradually become dangerous and that they seem real even though it's a game. The graphics are also very original, sometimes they remind of The Walking Dead, sometimes of Robocop, sometimes they just look real enough. It's a great game, I love it! (you better watch your back if you decide to unlock everything) XBOX 360 Game Watchman on consoles might be a bit different than watchman on a pc, but who knows, it might just be an excellent thing. how is it different? -if you plan on getting everything it might be a good idea to downgrade to a lower system memory -the passwords to open the doors are a bit different, I believe they're around three or four, but it's up to you -PC has combat -XBOX has a original story mode -XBOX has a password to unlock everything PROS -great story/characterization -legitimately eerie, dark atmosphere -excellent/original music/graphics -VERY short -VAGUE SPOILERS CONS -PC has

Hiro Hirono Hiro Hirono is the young CEO of a prestigious family-owned food company in the city of Osaka. Yuko Amamiya Despite being part of the upper class, Yuko Amamiya remains a free-spirited young woman. Hirono and Amamiya meet for the first time at a housewarming party and immediately connect because of their similar personalities. That evening, while Hirono and his friend are enjoying a drink, they see two young women who were being chased by 2 hoodlums, running down a stairwell. Hirono offers to give chase, and watches in interest as a man with long hair and a red visor surrenders the women's purses, to be rewarded with a set of keys. The man returns a short time later with the purses in hand, but another male in a blue hoodie arrives and grabs the girl on the other side, in an attempt to force her into a car. She refuses, and the scuffle ends with both of them going headfirst onto the floor. The boy in the red visor gives an annoyed sigh at the sight of his new friend, and then both men run off. Hirono and Amamiya are disappointed that they won't be seeing those two again. Afterwards, the two friends are sitting around, when the young woman with the red visor suddenly approaches them. She introduces herself as Hiro Hirono, and asks if they wouldn't mind helping her out as she was writing a manga. Hirono is surprised and flattered by the girl's offer. The next day, Hirono and Amamiya are inside Hiro's studio, admiring her progress on the first page. Hiro asks if they like the first page, but neither one of them reply, instead opting to simply admire it further. Hiro's friend joins them, and for some reason, his eyes instantly go to the red visor, which is still attached to the young man's hoodie. Hiro introduces the young can be used at any time during the day. Hours within the times listed on the round are when the feat can be used. Benefits depending on time of day are calculated as you complete a daily task. If you complete two daily tasks or complete your daily task before the end of the round, any benefits from the daily tasks are not calculated. If you plan on making use of single or multiple feats as part of a daily task, the day starts once that task has been completed. At 10:00 AM, 10:05 AM, and 11:05 AM there are no benefits from daily tasks. Daily tasks can be used during the times listed or within an hour before or after the times listed on the round if your daily task needs to be completed outside of that timeframe. Some examples of possible circumstances when a daily task requires processing outside of the times listed in the round: Daily task processing started at 08:00 AM but not completed until 11:00 AM Daily task processing started at 08:30 AM but not completed until 11:30 AM Daily task processing started at 09:00 AM but not completed until 12:00 PM Daily task processing started at 11:00 AM but not completed until 01:00 PM Daily tasks can be used any time during the day, but the first round of a day can use only one feat, as it can be used only once during a day. Once the first round of a day uses a feat, that feat is removed from the day for the rest of the day. For example, the first round of a day can use up to three feats but once the first round of the day uses three feats, you cannot use a fourth feat that round and cannot use a feat on any other round of that day. After using a feat, you cannot use that feat until the following day. Feat Templates You can select both templates and example uses for feats. Template 1: Weapon, Armored Armor, or Spell: The template to select from. Requires a Feat tree for artifacts, implements, and clothing. Templates are automatically upgraded to Advanced Feat Templates, which also has additional requirements and costs. Advanced Feat Templates include templates that use material components, enhancements, and special abilities. Auto Feat Selection By default, feat selection is determined automatically, based on what you have chosen as your Best Feat. You can allow the Spellcaster and Druid to choose a feat as well. Click on the capabilities section of a feat to show its advanced features.
