needed Usage: Bin2C is composed of two scripts: one is the main script, the second is the binary script. Bin2C can be called with one or more .bin2c files. First, you need to transform all the binary files to C code, by typing bin2c main.bin2c. Then, type bin2c binary.bin2c to convert the C code into binary code. Here are some example:

- To transform a binary file to C code: bin2c binary.bin2c
- To create a C source file from a binary file: bin2c main.bin2c

To see more information, type help. Notes: * This tool is for the education purpose. It is not ready for production. * Currently, Bin2C is not supported for Arduino. * The C code is very simple, so you don't need to worry about compilers. Q: Is there a better way to do this? I'm not sure what I'm missing... I have some code that is basically this:

private void scriviDeiFila(string fullFileName, List filas, string separator) { string[] cercaFila = filas.Where(s => s.Contains(separator)).Select(s => s).ToArray(); string[] cercaPrefixoFila = cercaFila.Select(s => s.Split('_')[0]).ToArray(); string[] cercaSufixoFila = cercaFila.Select(s => s.Split('_')[1]).ToArray(); string[] buoneScempi = cercaPrefixoFila.Except(cercaSufixoFila); string[] maliScempi = cercaPrefixoFila.Except(cercaSufixoFila.Except(buoneScempi)); string[] negativeScempi = cercaPrefixo
