Necesito que mi código rellene todo el campo que le indique la función, pero solo lo hace una parte. public void rellene(JTextField text) { int a = 1; JTextField b = new JTextField(2); JTextField c = new JTextField(2); JTextField d = new JTextField(2); b.setText("Texto number " + a++); c.setText("Texto number " + a++); d.setText("Texto number " + a++); text.setText(text.getText() + " " + a++); } A: Si esta función llena una text field de una sola vez, cambia tu código para que setText() se ejecute siempre que se ingrese una tecla en la text field, de esta manera tendrías: public void rellene(JTextField text) { int a = 1; text.setText("Texto number " + a++); } Structure and dynamics of the normal state of L-cystine in a high-pressure xenon matrix. Structure and dynamics of the normal state of L-cystine in xenon and xenon-tetrafluoromethane mixtures at 0.7, 0.85 and 1.0 GPa, determined from X-ray diffraction data, are discussed. The data have been analysed using an anharmonic Pade-extrapolation technique together with a Vibrational Mode Decomposition Method.
